The Kuaishou Charity Foundation's 2025 “Future Enlightenment School” AI summer camp has officially opened, bringing 24 teachers and students from the Wosai Township Ethnic Boarding Primary School in Jiuzhi County, Golog Prefecture, Qinghai Province, to Beijing for a study tour. Most of the participating children come from impoverished herder families. The initiative aims to expose rural children in under-developed regions to cutting-edge technology, provide an early introduction to artificial intelligence, broaden their horizons for future development, and realize the dual value of inclusive education and technology empowerment.
