Public Welfare Times: Kuaishou Foundation for Public Welfare Launches "Enlightenment Star" Initiative to Serve 5 Million Rural Students with AI

The Kuaishou Foundation for Public Welfare has launched the "Enlightenment Star" initiative as a new component of the "Enlightenment Future Academy" program, leveraging technology and AI to support educational equity. By introducing high-quality AI resources, the Foundation will inject new momentum into rural education. Over the next three years, the Foundation will utilize Kuaishou's world-leading Kling AI technology to improve hardware infrastructure in rural schools, enrich science and technology activities, enhance teachers' AI literacy, and broaden students' technological horizons. The project will cover over 2,000 rural schools, reach 30,000 frontline teachers and school social workers, and serve over 5 million rural students, enabling more children in rural areas to enjoy equitable and quality education.
