What does it mean to pass away? Is it going to a very far place? On the eve of the Qingming Festival, a five-minute short film titled 'Paper Phone' produced using Kling AI went viral across the internet. Within just a few days, the film surpassed 100 million views, with authoritative media including People's Daily, CCTV News, and Xinhua News Agency sharing it widely. Countless netizens were moved to tears in the comment section. One viewer left a poignant remark: The most inhuman AI has created the most human film.
