In response to the 20th National Congress of the Communist Party of China's deployment on implementing the education digitalization strategy, and to fulfill the Ministry of Education's Notice on Strengthening AI Education in Primary and Secondary Schools, the Kuaishou Philanthropy Foundation has officially launched the 'Enlightenment Star' program for collecting AI-empowered education innovation cases. The initiative targets frontline teachers and grassroots educators nationwide, collecting outstanding cases of applying AI technology in educational practice, jointly exploring innovative pathways for AI-empowered education, and supporting education equity and high-quality development. The case collection directions include AI interdisciplinary project-based learning, competency-oriented teaching, rural aesthetic education and competency enhancement, AI-integrated cultural understanding, and emotional education school-based curricula. The program encourages educators to base their submissions on real classrooms, real problems, and real exploration, submitting innovative, practical, exploratory, and scalable case results.
