

“Global Development National Day” launched at Cuban Embassy in China as first stop

2023.02.13

China International Development Cooperation Agency

On February 9, the Global Development Promotion Centre teamed up with Kuaishou's short-video platform to launch the inaugural themed live streaming event as part of the “Global Development National Day” series at the Embassy of Cuba in China. Tang Wenhong, vice-chairman of China International Development Cooperation Agency, attended the event and met with Carlos Miguel Pereira, the Cuban Ambassador to China. Liu Junfeng, the Director-General of the Second Department of Regional Affairs, and Tang Ying, director of the Global Development Promotion Center, were also present. Through live streaming and other innovative methods, the “Global Development National Day” series will continue to take place at various embassies of different countries and the United Nations agencies in China. The series aims to promote development cooperation through online platforms and actively contribute to the realization of the 2023 Agenda for Sustainable Development of the United Nations.